Contribute financially towards the education of economically weaker students.	Yes	gospel event	stay in college, study , enjoy within your boundary, use this time its precious	a student counsellor is a must to help overcome the issue of young girls meet where alumni are asked to pay an amount, this basically was like a fund raiser activity which I think a college like BCWCC shouldn't be doing. The ideology of having an alumni meet where we need to pay to come to college makes no sense at all, we rather would choose to hangout with our friend's. College has already collected 500rs for alumni card which barely costs 50rs then why alumni fee? The only motive when the current principal spoke in alumni meet was to contribute towards college in monetary terms?
